

Chinese New Year CREATIVITY COMPETITION

Theme: Why I Learn Chinese

CATEGORIES

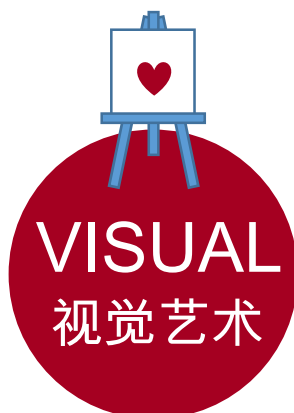

Music, Singing, Dance, or Skit
No longer than 3 minutes

Acts must follow a general Chinese theme, use Chinese songs, Chinese traditional melodies, Chinese dance, or other Chinese performing art forms.

Students may perform in groups.

Record your act and upload the video to YouTube (please use "unlisted" setting). Send us the link to your video.

Posters, Photography,
Paintings, or 3D art on the theme:
"Why I Learn Chinese."

Photos or art must be original work. Duh!

Must include a 2-3 line caption explaining the art and how it fits with the theme.

Can work in groups (limit 3 students/group)

Photo entries should be original, high resolution files. For other types of art, take 2-3 photos of your work at different angles and send them to us.

Write an essay or poem in English on the theme:
"Why I Learn Chinese."

Limit 250 words.

Students must work individually.

Each student can submit up to one essay and one poem for a total of two written works per student.

DEADLINE FOR ENTRIES: January 22, 2016

WHAT?

ASU Confucius Institute will select the best submissions in each category, which will be displayed, performed live, and receive awards on February 13, 2016 at ASU.

THE BEST PART

Students will then vote for the overall winners in each category! Winners will be honored at an awards ceremony.

WHEN IS BUDDY DAY?

Saturday, February 6, 2016
ASU Tempe Campus, Memorial Union, Arizona Ballroom

Confucius Institute
Arizona State University