The Color Scheme of Three Revolutionary Epics in Socialist China (1964-2009):
Red Legend, Grey Performance, or Black Restoration to Capitalism?

Friday, October 7, 2011
5:00-6:30 p.m.
LL 104

Xiaomei Chen

Xiaomei Chen is professor of Chinese literature and chair of East Asian Languages and Cultures at the University of California, Davis. She is the author of Occidentalism: A Theory of Counter-Discourse in Post-Mao China (1995), and Acting the Right Part: Political Theater and Popular Drama in Contemporary China (2002). She is the editor of Reading the Right Texts: An Anthology of Contemporary Chinese Drama (2003), and The Columbia Anthology of Modern Chinese Drama (2010). With Claire Sponsler, she co-edited East of West: Cross-Cultural Performances and the Staging of Difference (2000).