The Confucius Institute at ASU & Contemporary Chinese School of Arizona

Are pleased to present the third event in the Professional Development Workshop Series for Teachers of Chinese

Date: Saturday, October 4, 2008
Time: 3:30 to 5:30 pm
Place: ASU Room 320, Mary Lou Fulton Education Building (formerly Farmer Education Bldg.)
Presenter: Dr. Jennifer Liu
Associate Professor, Indiana University
Director, Center for Chinese Language Pedagogy
Director, Chinese Flagship Partner Program

Dr. Jennifer Liu, the Immediate Past President of the Chinese Language Teachers Association (CLTA), is currently the Director of the Center for Chinese Language Pedagogy at Indiana University (IU). An award-winning teacher, Professor Liu is also the Director of the Chinese Flagship Partner Program at IU and was the Academic Director of the Chinese K-16 Flagship Program at the University of Oregon last year. She has worked in the field of Chinese language education for 22 years, focusing on teacher training, program design, curriculum and material development, and computer-enhanced language learning. As associate professor and Chinese language program coordinator at IU, she teaches all levels of Chinese and routinely offers pedagogy courses to graduate students interested in Teaching Chinese as a Foreign Language. She has published series of articulated textbooks, Interactions I-II: A Cognitive Approach to Beginning Chinese (1997), Connections I-II: A Cognitive Approach to Intermediate Chinese (2004), Encounters I-II: A Cognitive Approach to Advanced Chinese (forthcoming), plus many other instructional materials.

Space in this workshop is limited: Reserve your place now! Please RSVP by September 29 to Jingning Zhang at Jingning.zhang@asu.edu.